Health & Wellbeing by the Bay

The concept of 'New Year – New Diet' is so condescending and cliché, as is the notion of 'getting summer body ready'. Throw away those outdated marketing ploys and do what makes you feel happy, motivated and alive. Fresh Attitude, Fresh Air and Fresh Food, along with a healthy dose of Self Love.

Fresh Attitude: Widening your mindset to discover what you enjoy. Start with a visit to your local Manly Village Medical Centre for a check-up. Make a plan, start with comfortable, achievable goals, then build up to what challenges you. Whether it is getting from the couch to 5km or learning a new skill, tap dancing or knitting with new friends – Commit.

Fresh Air: Wynnum Manly Lota area has over 7 km of foreshore, mangrove walks and bike tracks, numerous off leash dog parks, a swimming & wading pool, a tennis wall and basketball hoop, outdoor fitness stations, skate parks and a community garden.

Fresh Food: Jan Power's Farmers Markets has fresh produce, most of it direct from the growers and producers. The Small Crop has a Wednesday morning farmers market. Taste by TNT deliver hand-picked fresh produce to the area. Spoilt for choice.

Self Love: Time for some indulgence therapy. City Cave Wynnum is a float therapy Wellness Centre offering float therapy, infrared sauna and massage. If you have never tried floating it is time to consider the wonderful mental and physical health benefits it advocates; loosened muscles, better sleep, released tension, just to name a few.

Manly Village Compounding Pharmacy can help with calming diffusers, oils, salt lamps, vitamins and beauty needs.

Lastly – remember to SMILE. Dental on Cambridge can help to get that fabulous smile.

DENTAL ON CAMBRIDGE

Our top priorities are preventative dentistry, patient care and comfort in our modern fully equipped practice.

The Arsonist

The Arsonist is the hottest luxe dining venue on Manly's esplanade. It fuels a multi-sensory dining experience where the open woodfire kitchen infuses the venue with the sounds and aromas of cooking with fire.

"Gathering communities around fire goes back to the dawn of time. It's instinctive," said Head Chef Kyle Bradley. "We've designed an open kitchen so patrons can share the dynamic experience."

A custom-made fire pit and a flame grill complete with impressive moveable gantry lies at the heart of the kitchen.

"Cooking with fire can be the most delicate process of cooking or the most extreme. Fire provides avenues of flavour that you simply can't get from anything this else," said Kyle.

The menu sourced from seasonal, local produce is grilled, smoked and slow-cooked using fire to deliver unique flavour profiles. Using Queensland's best suppliers such as Stockyard Beef and Schultz Family Farm suckling pigs, ensures that guests will have a dining experience like no other.

"Our drive is customer satisfaction and humbly helping the quality produce shine through using elements of fire," said Kyle.

Manly Weekend Markets

Farm Fresh produce, rich and indulgent brownies. That's the draw of the Jan Power's Farmers Markets twice each month down by Manly Harbour Village.

A tradition over several years, the markets are part of the Manly community with locals and producers coming from far and wide. Rain or shine they are setting up early on a Saturday morning awaiting the arrival of expectant and keen regulars.

I head first for the natural crystalized ginger (gotta get in quick) .... then order my coffee from the friendly team at Rumour Mill Espresso based under the giant fig tree in the heart of the markets. A wander around to take in the freshly baked aroma of pastries whilst my coffee is being brewed ..... it can get busy. Salmon, chicken fillets and lamb are always on the menu from the lovely mobile butchers as is smoked sausages from the deli man. I may get a breakfast bagel or German sausage to have with my coffee...to share of course whilst I take a break to enjoy the live music on the green.

Over to the Produce stalls to stock up on fruit and vegetables, along with ethical eggs, crusty bread and cheese. Bananas are a staple with the Lady Fingers freshly picked from Caboolture. It is always special when they throw in an overripe cavendish for some home baked banana bread. Bulk up on seasonal strawberries or oranges for preserves or mangos for chutneys .. or simply eat fresh whilst sitting on the back steps.

'Oh....' and did someone mention gin. Redlands Coast Distillery is fast becoming a favourite. Their small batch, hand crafted Berries & Elderflower Gin is made with local Wellington Point strawberries. Perfect for summer sipping with tonic, crushed ice and a sprig of mint.

You will see me with my basket brimming with fresh produce trundling home, or stopping to browse the boutiques dotted throughout Manly.

Eitherway give me a 'hoi' ... or spot me at the Sunday Manly Creative markets enjoying a coffee with Andy who has the best coffee view in Brisbane overlooking Manly Boat Harbour. Whilst you are there browse the books and get reading tips from Karen....grab some potted greenery or rummage through the vintage clothes ... unique handcrafted designs from chopping boards to candles, retro styles and garden gnomes to pet products. Whatever tickles your fancy, or just sit in the sunshine and watch the boats go by.

Wynnum parkrun – Brisbane's most scenic run

Run, jog, walk and enjoy the view at the Wynnum parkrun. Over 200 regular parkrunners get together each Saturday morning for the 5 km route along what must be Brisbane's most scenic parkrun. Stretching from the Wynnum Wading Pool to Manly and back via Wynnum Creek the route is a joy to run with wonderful Moreton Bay & Island views.

Rain or shine runners, joggers, walkers and a dedicated band of volunteers cover the foreshore course with timed runs at this free event.

Wynnum parkrun is the creation of Event Directors Alan and Róisín Burrell who emigrated from the UK in 2012 and who were involved as volunteers and participants in their local parkrun in Greenwich.

The inaugural parkrun was on 8 September 2012 along the Wynnum Manly foreshore and is now one of over 464 parkruns in Australia with 117 active in Queensland, with many of those in SEQ set up with the help of Alan and Róisín.

Wynnum parkrun is from 7am each Saturday from Wynnum Wading Pool and with the Lota parkrun starting from the Lota camping ground. Sign up at parkrun.com.au to register for your timed entry code.

Adelita Wine Bar

With its striped umbrellas and emerald-green awnings, Adelita Wine Bar cuts a chic figure on the corner of Fox Street and Glenora Street overlooking Moreton Bay. The venue boasts a cosmopolitan design and colour scheme of lush green and timber tones, with an alfresco area featuring a mix of outdoor lounges and banquettes.

The venue's centrepiece – a U-shaped, marble-topped bar illuminated by pendant lights – is ringed by eight stools, while a tasting table will be set up inside for intimate dinner services.

The brains behind Adelita's menu is Borneo-born executive chef Esca Khoo, who is overseeing the menu creation remotely alongside Adelita head chef Noah Soowon. They have created an offering that takes a modern-Australian foundation and builds upon it with native ingredients, international twists and a strong focus on sustainability.

Adelita's debut daytime menu starts with small nibbles including charcuterie, oysters and bush-spiced roasted nuts, before gradually increasing in portion size with the likes of sardine escabache and fennel on rye toast, Caribbean jerk-chicken skewers and fermented crumpets with curried egg and spanner crab. Larger plates include wild-pig chorizo and guindillas, kangaroo tartare with oyster cream, marinated egg and wasabi leaves, and Basque wet rice with quail, peppers and morcilla. Adelita's take on a Golden Gaytime is made with caramel, chocolate, macadamia and Vegemite.

Adelita's extensive wine collection showcases international classics alongside new-wave Australian makers like Dormilona, Snake + Herring and Gentle Folk, as well as a small selection of large-format bottles and Japanese sake. Cocktails feature out-of-the-box concoctions like the Ham & Pineapple (coconut fat-washed bourbon, toasted walnuts, spiced apple, pineapple and pork crackle), the Beets Me Martini (beetroot, stained vodka, rosso vermouth, honey, charcoal and caviar) and the Beer-noffie Pie (banana-washed dark rum, Stone & Wood, ginger and nutmeg).

City Cave Wynnum

City Cave Wynnum is a float therapy wellness centre located at 89 Bay Terrace Wynnum, which aims to provide natural healthcare that adds quality to your years.

We offer 3 x different services - float therapy, infrared sauna and massage, which can be done alone, or in any number of combinations - each of the services compliments the other beautifully.

Float therapy involves lying in a shallow pool of water in your own private room. The water has 400kg of magnesium in it, making it incredibly buoyant, the same effect as the Dead Sea. The room and water is set to the same temperature as your skin, the room is sound proofed, and you switch off the lights into complete darkness, creating a sensory reduction experience which deeply relaxes your mind. Not only is floating wonderful for mental health, you also reap all the physical benefits from absorbing lots of magnesium during your 60 minute session; loosened muscles, better sleep, released tension, just to name a few.

Everyone can benefit from float therapy - we have a wide array of clients. From those suffering from chronic pain conditions, to gym goers needing some recovery, busy full time workers who need help switching off, as well as parents who are desperate for some peace and quiet! We've had such a wonderful response from the Wynnum community, and absolutely love seeing the impact these natural therapist are having on the lives of our clients.

Flinders Building, Bay Tce, Wynnum

Oh - how we celebrated the opening of the Majestic Cinema in Wynnum. Against a backdrop of fireworks and flame throwers, everyone and anyone partied at the Waterloo Bay with music and champagne.

What a contrast then to 1977 when The Flinders Building (formerly Oxley House) was celebrated as Wynnum's first high rise with 6 stories allowing stunning views across the bay. Such was the occasion; the public were invited to attend the official opening in 1978 with a day of festivities. There were stalls and displays along with raffles.

Entry to inspect the building and ride the lift to the top floor was 20 cents for adults, 10 cents for children and 50 cents for the family. For those who truly wanted to join in the merriment, helium balloon with a tag displaying your name and competition details were available to buy. The balloons were released from the top floor with the winner being the balloon which travelled the furthest and had the tag returned by the finder. First prize was two Ansett Pioneer coach tickets to Sydney, Melbourne, Adelaide or Cairns. And the lucky individual who returned the tag was prized a transistor radio. Fun times.

Over the years it has been occupied by many budding businesses and undergone a number of renovations. The lifts are still a feature along with the windows affording views over the bay to the islands and the Port of Brisbane.

In 2006, a Wynnum CBD Renewal Planning Charrette claimed the structure "shoots straight up into the sky with featureless brick walls - to the community it is ugly". Major design changes were recommend including extending it out towards Chestnut St with added verandas and awnings. The building escaped this fate and as recent as 2018 it was given a coat of paint to transform the dated yellow and grey exterior to a modern white, black and green. At this time, it was noted to be built to a very high standard with no major repairs required.

That is good news to locals who have come to appreciate Flinders as a part of Wynnum history at a time when many iconic landmarks are being lost to progress

2023 Property Market to be dominated by Upgraders!!

The current property and economic environment, plus the scars left on many of us after a year or two of Covid-related lockdowns, have meant that Aussies are looking to upgrade their lifestyle, and this is something we're going to see even more of in the coming years.

In fact, there are four key types of 'upgraders' we're likely to see more from during this property cycle.

1. Tenants upgrading to better rentals - Many tenants are no longer happy to live in small dingy apartments and with an oversupply of rental units available in many areas, they are taking the opportunity to upgrade their accommodation. Other tenants who have managed to save a deposit are taking advantage of many of the many incentives available and are becoming first home buyers.
2. Homeowners upgrading to larger, better, homes - With interest rates still relatively low many existing homeowners are upgrading their accommodation to larger homes in better neighbourhoods. In fact, a recent survey suggested that one in three homeowners are looking to sell their homes in the next 5 years.
3. Homeowners looking for a sea- or tree-change - While small group homeowners are upgrading their lifestyle and moving out of the big smoke to regional Australia, more Aussies are looking to upgrade their lifestyle by moving to a better neighbourhood. As mentioned above, they love the thought that most of the things needed for a good life are just around the corner.
4. Baby boomers downgrading - Many Baby Boomers are looking to upgrade their accommodation by moving out of their old, tired family homes into large family-friendly apartments or townhouses. But they're not looking for a sea change or tree change, they're keen to live in "20-minute" neighbourhoods close to their family and friends.
